

WATERS EDGE CATERER LIST

The following summary represents our current list of “pre-approved” Caterers. They have been selected by Waters Edge based on their years of service for our friends at Brookside Farms (a similar facility to ours that is located just north of Louisville) and at Waters Edge. They all do an excellent job to enhance the venue with their high quality food service and accommodations.

Each caterer has specific qualities that are inherent to their organization. It is important for each of our clients to contact the Caterers on this list in order to align the client’s vision of food service accommodations and personal preferences with respect to type of food, cost, presentation, serving style, etc., that each family is planning for their special event. There are no two Caterers on this list that typically provide the same levels and combinations of services identified above. The more services requested usually promotes a higher cost of product. Caterer selection is one of the most important planning steps to your march “down the aisle”. We feel that our Caterer List represents a varied, but historically strong summary of companies that will serve your catering needs well.
